Black Clover, Vol. 2

Synopsis

Asta is a young boy who dreams of becoming the greatest mage in the kingdom. Only one problem-he can't use any magic! Luckily for Asta, he receives the incredibly rare five-leaf clover grimoire that gives him the power of anti-magic. Can someone who can't use magic really become the Wizard King? One thing's for sure-Asta will never give up! On the orders of the Wizard King, Asta and his allies head to a mysterious dungeon to retrieve a powerful relic. When mages from a rival country show up, however, this mission turns into an all-out battle. Can Asta lead his team to the win?

Our hero Asta has started his journey to become the Wizard King! What awaits him and his companions while they protect the kingdom as Magic Knights?! Evil doers beware, no one who hurts the innocent will escape the Black Bulls mighty judgment. I am so pumped especially since Jump! is so far ahead of these chapters! Oh Oct. can't come fast enough! I'm glad that I also get to see Yuno use some more of his magic skills!

I'll be honest, black clover Is no masterpiece by any extent. However, if you like Naruto and Fairy tail, it's worth checking out if you don't take it too seriously, it's just a fun read. I hope things will flesh out more and the story develops. Will be looking forward to volume 3!

Just got done reading the 2nd volume and so far I'm loving it. I love these type of stories where the one who should be the weakest has found a way past their weakness to become strong. It's really interesting seeing how the world is based on magic yet the protagonist appears to have none, however he is physically strong and has a giant sword that cancels out other magic. Looking forward to the third volume.

Black Clover 2 continues to build upon the legend of Asta and Yuno - the two 'street rats' who will rise up in the ranks of wizards with both desiring to take the top position. The story is building slowly, with Asta and Noelle trying to find their magic (or lack thereof) by doing assignments for the Black Bull squad. There are the usual battles and surprises; I'm greatly reminded of Bleach with every volume. Story: Asta's odd magic-negating sword is proving to be both an asset and a curse as he learns to use it. But his courage and determination inspire those around him. So much so that he will take notice of the magic emperor himself. Meanwhile, an assignment to find a lost treasure in a newly discovered tomb turns into a 3-way race between the Black Bulls, the Golden Dawn squad, and a foreign kingdom's magicians. The drawing is still fairly shakey - lacking the details that one typically expects from a seasoned manga artist. Lines are very one-dimensional and background details underwhelming. Certainly, the author/artist hasn't hit his stride yet and settled into the characters by this second volume. The random fan service is kind of distracting (and not in the way you'd think) - it's rather randomly placed and doesn't make a lot of sense for the characters. I would have preferred less 'up dress angles' and 'gravity defying assets' - it just feels like someone is trying too hard. There's not a lot of creativity here - magicians, tombs, grimoirs - the author doesn't stretch much to create a world around which to base his characters. Even the magic system, based on elements/nature, is rather trite. The story looks to have many places it can go and there is still a lot of mystery to be explored. Hopefully, this will be more than 'monster/tomb of the week' to make it worthwhile. Reviewed from an advance reader copy provided by the publisher.

Really enjoyed this action paced volume. The only problem I have with this volume is that it ends rather abruptly. Typically it would be nice if each volume covers an arc.

I love this series. I can't wait till October 4 when the third volume is released. I like how the most powerful is the one with no magic power at all.
